HEART OF LEARNING

BASED right in the heart of Sheffield city centre, Sheffield Hallam University is one of the UK's most progressive and innovative universities, attracting 28,000 students.

The University's City Campus is a welcoming modern environment with some of the finest learning and teaching facilities in Europe.

Around this hub revolves a flourishing, diverse academic community. The second campus, only a couple of miles away, is a complete contrast. The tranquil Collegiate Campus is set among lawns and trees in one of Sheffield's leafiest suburbs.

In May 2005 the university opened the impressive Health and Wellbeing Building at Collegiate Crescent Campus. The £15 million "beacon for health and social care education" was officially opened by University Chancellor, Professor the Lord Winston and provides world-class facilities for our health and social care students.

Plans for further development of both campuses are already well advanced with the University planning to replace its third campus at Psalter Lane with a new home for the Faculty of Arts, Computing, Engineering and Sciences at City Campus.

The university offers top quality teaching and learning facilities and the ability to learn flexibly in a way that best suits their needs.

It is one of the UK's leading universities in e-learning and offers a range of distance
