

THE PLACE THAT YOU

Accommodation: from left, Tapton Hall of Residence at Crookes, houses to let at Hunters's Bar,

If you're just starting your Fresher's Weeks at either of Sheffield's two universities, the chances are that you'll be living for the next 12 months in Halls of Residence.

But even now you should perhaps be considering what comes next, what will happen when you have to leave the security of Halls and find somewhere of your own to live.

Sheffield has plenty of houses available for student letting, owned by private landlords and mainly based in popular student areas like Hunters Bar, Ecclesall, Crookes and

The best way is to go through a registered landlord

Sharrow - all within easy travelling distance of both university campuses.

The best way to find somewhere to live is to go through a registered landlord all registered accommodation is subject to owners confirming that gas appliance and electrical wiring has been regularly inspected by recognised qualified professionals and that it adheres to a code of practice. Students may rent a room within a house on an individual basis or share the responsibility of renting a whole house with others.

Typically student houses are rented by three to five stu-